ROBERT GALLAGHER IS C. OF C. MEMBER

5-YEAR-OLD BOY IS YOUNGEST HOG BREEDER.

PAYS DUES FOR A YEAR

Is Grandson of R. E. Thomas, Who Was Charter Members—Owns Forty Hogs.

Robert Gallagher, 5 years old, is now the youngest member of the Maryville Chamber of Commerce. He took out his membership yesterday, paid dues of $10 for the year, and is now a full-fledged business man. He is probably the youngest member of a chamber of commerce in the United States.

Robert has had more fame already than the average 5-year-old boy. He is the youngest breeder of Poland-China hogs in the United States, owner of a share of stock in the Standard Poland-China Record Association and the youngest member of any Poland-China record association in the country. Just the other day he had his picture taken with his pure-bred hogs—not an ordinary picture made for the family photograph album, but a reel of movies, which are to be used for breed promotion work by W. O. Garrett, field man for the Poland-China Breed Promotion Association.

Although Robert is only 5 years old, he is a veteran in the Poland-China breeding game. He has a herd of about forty hogs which he takes care of himself. This fall he plans to have a sale, as older breeders do. He is a son of Mrs. C. J. Gallagher and a grandson of R. E. Thomas, which explains his ability to pick and develop good types in hogs. The grandfather has been prominent among Poland-China breeders fo ryears, and his father C. J. Gallagher, was one of the leaders among the younger breeedrs at the time of his death about two years ago.

Robert attends sales with his grandfather and his older friends say he can pick out the best hog in the sale at a glance, and when he puts his O. K. on an animal it is seldom that the hog fails to bring a good price.

In joining the Maryville Chamber of Commerce, Robert is also following in the footsteps of his grandfather, who was one of the charter members fifteen years ago of the old Maryville Commercial Club, which developed into the present organization.

WITH SUN FARTHEST NORTH, JUNE 21 IS LONGEST DAY

Old Sol Is Now Two Million Miles Farther From the Earth Than in Midwinter.

Today is the longest day of the year. Every day since last March Old Sol has been steadily traveling north, and the days have been getting longer and the nights shorter. June 21 is the date of the summer soltice, when the sun reaches the farthest point north and stands directly over the tropic of cancer. Tomorrow the sun will start on its six months' trip south.

Another interesting fact is that altho this is the warmest season of the year, the earth is about two million miles farther from the sun than in midwinter. The difference of seasons is not caused by the distance of the earth from the sun, but by the inclination of the earth's axis. In summer, the northern hemisphere, in which we live, leans toward the sun, and in winter it leans away from the sun.

BOARD MUST CHOOSE NEW TEACHER OF AGRICULTRE

Forest E. Moore Fails to Qualify for Position—Work on New Addition Now Goes on at Night.

A meeting of the school board was held last evening to discuss several matters pertaining to the building of the addition to the Central school building. Work is progressing nicely on this addition and it is expected to be ready for occupancy by the first of August. This addition will be under roof within the next few weeks. Workmen are now working after supper on the building.

Other matters discussed were of a routine nature. A new agriculture teacher will have to be selected, as the instructor who was selected, Forest E. Moore, who was graduated from the Iowa agricultural college at Ames, failed to meet the requirements of the state and was rejected by the board who have charge of passing on agriculture teachers in high schools where state and federal aid is given.

Representative Jesse Miller, who was home from Jefferson City, attended the meeting, being a member of the board.

HAVE BEEN HAPPILY MARRIED 65 YEARS

MR. AND MRS. SAMUEL HOSTETTER CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

WEDDING JUNE 19, 1856

Couple Were Married in Indiana But Have Lived in Nodaway County 48 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hostetter, living at 522 South Walnut St. and for forty-eight years residents of Nodaway County, ceelbrated their sixty-fifth wedding anniversary Sunday. A dinner in honor of the occasion was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Foster, when, according to Mr. Hostetter, many of his "good neighbors" were there. An excellent dinner was served and the day was greatly enjoyed by the honor guests.

Asked what his views on married life were after his sixty-five years, Mr. Hostetter said, "Its a happy life if you live happy".

Mr. and Mrs. Hostetter were married on June 19, 1856, at the home of Mrs. Hostetter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fuel Burch near Cincinnati, Ind. The ceremony was performed at 11 o'clock in the morning before a large number of relatives and friends. Following the ceremony, the wedding dinner was served. One of the interesting details of the wedding was that the bride's great-grandmother was a guest.

Mr. Hostetter at the age of 83 is active and vigorous, but Mrs. Hostetter, 82 years old, has just fairly good health. They lived on a farm all of their married life until four years ago when they moved to Maryville. The farm on which they lived for many years is located twelve miles northwest of Maryville. In regard to the farm life, Mr. Hostetter said, "I would still love to farm if I had the strength".

Mr. and Mrs. Hostetter have no children but have a number of relatives living in Nodaway county. They have a great many friends here who congratulated them on their long and happy wedded life and wished them more happy anniversaries.

MARYVILLE BAND WANTS UNIFORMS

CAMPAIGN FOR FUNDS WILL START NEXT WEEK

BOY SCOUTS WILL HELP

Contributions Should Come From Individuals Not Already Giving, Says Executive Committee

Funds to equip the Maryville Concert Band with uniforms will be raised in a campaign for popular subscriptions, in which the Boy Scouts will play a principal part next week. The campaign will be managed by the executive committee of the band with the endorsment of the Chamber of Commerce.

The appeal for subscriptions is to be made among the people who enjoy the weekly concerts, but who do not contribute anything to the support of the band. The Chamber of Commerce already finances the band to the extent of subscribing to a fund for the engagement, through a co-operative arrangement with the State Teachers College, of a competent director to train the band, furnishes a rehearsal room, purchases music, etc.

The members of the band serve without any remuneration, give much of their time to the organization and are at considerable expense in purchasing instruments and learning to play them. Director Kutschinski recently made an estimate of the average cost of the instruments used in the band and found it to be in the neighborhood of $100 Besides this first cost, the musicians must expend their own money for music lessons and spend an hour or more each day in practice for at least a year. Even then they are by no means finished musicians. After they join the band they give two hours each week to band practice and one evening for the weekly concert.

According to present plans, the aid of the Boy Scouts will be enlisted next Wednesday, June 29, to distribute letters and envelopes to homes in Maryville. The weekly concert will be given as usual on Thursday night. Then on Friday the Scouts will collect the envelopes with the contributions of the citizens toward the uniform fund.

The country people who congregate each week from a radius of several miles surrounding Maryville will be given an opportunity to send their subscriptions by mail.

"I would like to say again that the band ought to be supported by a fund from the city treasury," said Director Kutschinski. "This would distribute the cost of its maintenance among all the citizens of the community, instead of just the band members and a few merchants and other public spirited citizens.

"Iowa has a law providing for more music and better music, and Missouri ought to be just as progressive. Clarinda recently voted a two mill tax for the support of its band, and this is what Maryville ought to do something soon."

The executive committee in charge of the campaign for the uniform fund is composed of the following members of the band: Hal T. Hooker, president; Oliver K. Bovard, vice president; Leon Cannon, secretary-treasurer; Albert Kuchs, business manager, and C. D. Kutschinski, director.

NAVY PLANES SINK SUBMARINE U-117

ATTACK FROM THE AIR LASTED SIXTEEN MINUTES.

TO DETERMINE POLICIES

If Tests Show Air Forces More Efficient America's Naval Program Must be Changed.

Aboard U. S. S. Henderson, June 21.—It took a small division of naval seaplanes something less than sixteen minutes today to send the ex-German submarine U-117 to join many good vessels, which it, as a German raider, had sent to Davy Jones' locker.

The bombardment of the submarine was carried out with neatness and dispatch by the fourth naval division under nearly perfect weather conditions.

Shortly after the sinking of the submarine, Lieutenant-Colonel Culver, flying in an army plane, crashed into the sea close by the ship Henderson. He escaped uninjured.

On Board U. S. S. Henderson, off Virginia Capes, June 21.—The American naval policy is in making today as a great air armada sweeps out to sea from the Virginia Capes. It is the first of a series of bombing tests to prove the value of air forces in warfare.

If the air forces demonstrate their effectiveness in sea fighting and their ability to put out of commission modern navy fighting ships, then the naval policy of America must undergo a change and great dreadnoughts must fall back into a back stream while the nation develops its air forces for protection on land and sea.

Out of the great gray fog banks, flying in wide, open formation, came the first squadron of air fighters in swift single seated scout planes with a speed of 120 miles an hour.

Across Hampton Roads at the naval base came several score of Uncle Sam's air boats prepared to take first action in the bombing of the ex-German submarine U-117.

The vanguard of attacking planes reached the target anchored fifty miles off Cape Charles at 9 a. m. none but navy machines participating in the opening attack.

Immediately behind were nine planes of the F-5-L type, each carrying four bombs. A torpedo plane division of five Martin bombers followed with six bombs each. Four machines of the NC type, similar to those used in the first transatlantic flight came next with four bombs each an dthe column was closed by a marine corps division of six DeHaviland bombers carrying two bombs each.

Provision was made for flyers at Langley Field to try their hand if the U-117 had remained afloat when the navy finished the army flight consists of twelve Martin bombers with six bombs each and eleven DeHavilands carrying two bombs each. Had the U-117 still remained on the surface guns of the destroyers would have sunk her.

Army and navy officers consider most important, however, the second phase o fthe bombing tests on June 28. At that time the battleship Iowa, radio controlled, will be cruising between Cape Charles and Cape Henlopen from fifty to 100 miles off shore. The aviators, with no further idea of the ship's location, will take off and search her out. If the Iowa is located, dummy bombs will be rained on her and the planes will return. The Iowa is not to be destroyed as she is the only radio controlled vessel in existence.

There are seventy square miles in the District of Columbia.

BRITISH LABOR PARTY HOLDS CRITICAL SESSION

Meets in Annual Conference Today to Tackle Wide Range of Issues Vital to Industry

London, June 21.—The British Labor Party, the only rapidly-growing party of English political life, assembles for its twenty-first annual conference at The Dome in Brighton, to-day for a four-day session, during which the militant political campaign of the coming year will be drafted.

The twelve months which have passed since the national delegates last assembled have witnessed a rapid growth in labor's political power. Many parliamentary bye-elections have been won by labor's candidates, while in virtually every district election caused by death or resignation of a member labor has shown great gains in voting strength over the figures of the general election of 1918.

The party by the decalrations of Arthur Henderson, its general secretary, and of other leaders, stands relentlessly opposed to Lloyd George and his Government. Its representatives have, of course, been in opposition, leaders on the front opposition bench in the House since the armistice, but the antagonism has been tremendously increased during the past year and has grown into personal antagonism against Lloyd George, in contrast to the immediate post-war period, during which labor opposed the coalition, formed chiefly of conservatives, but looking upon the Premier rather as a friend.

"Full Time" Politics

The conference which opens to-day will consider and formulate plans for increasing the efficiency of the workers political machine. On the agenda are many detailed proposals for changes in organization, in methods of campaign and in methods of financing labor's political fights. Among these are proposals for employment of "full time" political agents at full-time salaries, instead of having the bulk of the "machine" work of the party to part-time volunteers receiving trival payment, as has been the practice in the past.

Plans for the more complete mobilization of the women's vote are also to be proposed, while certain amendments to the constitution and standing orders of the party provide for better methods of representation at the annual conferences, for the building of a national executive on general staff lines and for the election of a certain number of woman to this genearl staff.

Succeeding days of the conference will tackle a wide range of subjects, both domestic and international.

PAINS IN SIDE AND BACK

Caused by Woman's Ills and Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Grafton, Pa.—"I was troubled with inflammation and pains in my sides and back. After doctoring with different doctors and not getting relief, I had almost given up hopes when my sister told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and knowing that she had really been helped by it, I purchased it. I was unable to do my work at that time, but after taking several bottles of the Vegetable Compound I can now do anything about the house or farm that a woman should do. I have a four months old baby that is the healthiest and biggest baby for his age that I have ever seen. I am willing for my letter to be used for a testimonial to tell other suffering women how much your medicine has done for me, as I give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound all the praise."—Mrs. BLAIR L. FISHER, R.D.1, Box 37, Grafton, Pa.

Working early and late—lifting, carrying, and the heaviest of houshold duties—is it any wonder that it results in backaches and kindred ills. But every woman who suffers as Mrs. Fisher did should profit by her experience and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

The matches will be best two out of three sets and will be played off on two of the college courts. The first two matches will be the men's singles between Forrest Gillam of Maryville and Thomas Bock of Hopkins and girl's doubles between Ruth Miller and Ora May Condon of Maryville and Gene Cheney and Mrs. Howard Stewart of Hopkins. The second pair of matches will be between William Mapel and Earl Bland of Maryville and Myron Liapple and James Lewis of Hopkins and between Robert Rice and Jesse Miller, Jr. and Harold Bebout and Rex Hopple of Hopkins. The last match will be between Forrest Gillam and Rev. S. P. Allison of Maryville and Thomas Bock and Howard Stewart of Hopkins.

This will probably be the last time that these two towns will compete together this summer. Maryville won all except one of the matches at Hopkins. The visitors, however have been practicing a great deal in the past two weeks and fast tennis is promised.

The manager of the local teams is in communication with some of the other teams within a radius of twenty miles and there will probably be other matches in the near future.

NO CLUE FOUND IN MAIL ROBBERY AT BURLINGTON JCT.

No clue has been found leading to the thief who looted a mail sack at Burlington Junction several weeks ago, acording to Postmaster Ferguson. The discovery of several opened letters in a hollow tree and other partly burned in the ashes of a fire was reported to the postal authorities at St. Joseph, but so far no inspectors or detectives have been sent to make investigation.

The mail is believed to have been stolen from the station platform at Burlington Junction while awaiting transfer from a Wabash train to the Burlington, on the night of May 23. Some of the mail discovered was marked "mutilated" by the postmaster and dispatched to the addresses.

The Rev. W. A. Chapman of Pickering was in Maryville yesterday on business.

Ford
THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Announcement

Mr. Edsel B. Ford, President of the Ford Motor Company, gives out the following statement:

"Another reduction has been made in the list price of all types of Ford cars and the Ford truck to take effect immediately. The list prices, f. o. b. Detroit, are now as follows:

TOURING CAR	$415.00	SEDAN	$760.00
RUNABOUT	$370.00	CHASSIS	$345.00
COUPE	$695.00	TRUCK CHASSIS	$495.00
TRACTOR	$625.00

"The big reductions last fall were made in anticipation of low material costs which we are now getting the benefit of, and this fact together with increased manufacturing efficiency and the unprecedented demand for Ford cars, particularly during the past three months permitting maximum production, have made another price reduction possible immediately.

"Ford business for April and May, 1921, was greater by 56,633 cars and trucks than for the same two months in 1920; in fact, the demand has been even greater than the supply, so that our output has been limited, not by unfilled orders but by manufacturing facilities.

"During May we produced 101,424 Ford cars and trucks for sale in the United States alone—the biggest month in the history of our company—and our factories and assembly plants are now working on a 4,000 car daily schedule for June.

"The Fordson Tractor is still being sold at less than the cost to produce on account of the recent big price reductions, and it is impossible, therefore, to make any further cut in the price of the tractor."

Can you afford to go without a car any longer when Fords are selling at these new prices? There is no reason now why you should delay purchasing a Ford car, Ford truck, or Fordson tractor.

We will gladly advise you concerning the delivery of a Fordson tractor or the particular type of car in which you are interested. Just 'phone us or drop us a card.

TENTONIC DIVORCE MILLS ARE WORKING OVERTIME

Judges Grant Many Separations to Straighten Out Marital Tangles Resulting From War.

Berlin, June 21.—The divorce wave following the war has hit Germany with full force. English divorce courts worked overtime the first year after the armistice straightening out the marital tangles resulting from the war. Germany reacted more slowly, but the Teutonic divorce mills are now grinding out separation papers with full German efficiency.

"In the year 1920 in Berlin there was one divorce granted for every eighth marriage consummated," declares the Berliner Tageblatt, following an investigation into the cause of the domestic disagreements. "Children still play the major role in holding together families, for one-half of the divorced couples during the past year have been childless."

"Continental marriage conventions are notoriously different from those in the United States, and cases where men and their wives separate and go their own ways without resorting to the divorce courts are so common that the social Grundies scarcely ever raise an eyebrow. The continental custom whereby husbands and wives agree to disagree makes more marked than ever the growing recourse to the courts.

"In the majority of cases the wife was accused as the guilty party," continues the Tageblatt. "But the new freedom brought by the revolution, with the reduced working hours, has brought disaster to many formerly happy families. The husband formerly worked eleven or twelve hours a day, and when he came home in the evening he was a good enough father.

"Since the eight-hour day has come into fashion, and in many lines the man has even shorter hours, the husband spends much of his time in bars, racetracks or in jovial society—or if they do come home they are in the house so much that it leads to friction and finally the divorce court."

FIGHT AGAINST FORMER MARYVILLE MAN FAILS

Frank Reynold, Chief of Police at Bremerton, Wash., Makes Enemies in Clean-up Campaign.

An effort was recently made to remove Chief of Police Frank Reynolds at Bremerton, Wash. Mr. Reynolds was formerly a citizen of Maryville. The recall was unsuccessful. The following article is from a Bremerton paper:

"The movement recently started by certain hotel proprietors to impeach Chief of Police Frank Reynolds and have him removed from office because of alleged illegal acts and unwarranted searches and seizeures has apparently died because of lack of support.

"Several hotel proprietors have, according to the police, removed their names from the petition on the ground that they were misinformed as to the import of the petition.

"Hotels are not visited, the police say, except when they are satisfied the party wanted is in the house and when the information as to the location of those sought is denied they proceed to get a search warrant for the house and enter the rooms until they locate the persons wanted.

"They 'pester' no one, the chief declares, as was charged by a member of the city council, but they do not tell a suspect that they are after him.

"In the matter of enlisted men, the police say the practice is to turn them in at the yard gate when the violation of the law is not too flagrant, but in many cases the men have immediately returned and repeated the offense, in which case they are jailed.

"The chief and his men declare frame-ups have been set in order to "get" them and that bribery has been attempted.

"Chief Reynolds states he is going to stay on the job and do the work he was chosen to do in cleaning up the town.

"Reynolds is a working man and a member of the bricklayers' union of over 20 years' standing."

LIFE IN THE WILD NORTH IS SAFER THAN IN OUR CITIES

Seattle, June 21.—Life in Alaska is as safe as a Federal Reserve bank compared to the hazardous crossing of streets in Seattle, according to the belief of Andrew M. Taylor, who came "outside" for the first time this Spring since 1898.

"Talk about facing perils in the North! Why, I'd rather drive a dog team across a glacier at 60 below than take chances of crossing Third avenue at Union street." he said. "And the noise! You folks seem to think you've got to be hardy to live up North. But I'd give anything I've got to be out of here, where a person can hear himself talk".

Taylor came out to meet John B. Burham, of New York, president of the American Game Protective Association, whom he will guide on a hunting and scientific expedition in Siberia. The party will go to Nome, then cross the Bering Sea. They will return from Sfberia the same way and take the last boat down to Seattle about October 1.

Burnham is in quest of a number of varieties of Siberian sheep not to be found on this continent, and plans to bring back specimens of these animals.

If you have a cold put a bag containg hot water to your feet; to your back for a backache, or at the nape of your neck when you have a headache or feel sleepless.

"If you had an eye behind you you might see more detractions at your heels than fortunes before you."—Shakespeare.

It is the movement of the air and not any chemical property which enables a wind to impart a tracing effect.
